President Donald Trump has proposed a $4.4 billion funding increase for the U.S. Coast Guard that could make a big difference in one of the country's most visible industries. The request for additional funding was part of the budget released by the White House Tuesday, the same day the president hosted Chinese President

Xi Jinping at his Mar-a-Lago estate in Florida. The Coast Guard's fleet currently has more than 42,000 active duty personnel and more than 18,000 reservists and Coast Guard Auxiliary volunteers, according to the service's website. The number of active duty is expected to go up to 48,000 by the end of 2019, with 6,000 more Coast Guard Reservists and Auxiliarists joining the ranks.
