Jun 9, 2017 Create a CD with 3 items on it 1) Unlock.img 2) Update.img 3) Mythdvd.img Restart the computer and put the cd in the drive! It should play. Jun 17, 2017 Yes, that is how it works. You need to change the mode with the button of the drive and then follow the instructions to install the unlock! Download Hitachi 79 Unlock Cd 77 Unlock.img Cd usually only comes in B mode, and sometimes you need to use a special tool to unlock it, my first time unlocking this drive, I used a normal cd tool to unlock it. After the drive was unlocked you can go to the software's main menu, look for the specific mode on the left side, select it and then change the mode to whatever mode you want. I used this image for testing, it worked fine, but I'm not very sure if it works on all the modes, I suggest you watch some Youtube videos on how to unlock a drive if you dont have the right tool. Jun 20, 2017 I use this program: It uses imageburn to burn the unlock image and change the drive to mode B. Nov 20, 2018 I followed all the steps in the above article and changed the display mode to mode B to unlock the drive. Why did I do that? - Because I wanted to play with mode B the Mythdvd.img on my PC. When booting the drive in mode B the Mythdvd.img could not be played, because it shows this on my screen: I fixed this by turning the display mode to mode A and making the Mythdvd.img work in mode B. Unfortunately there is no way to turn the screen back to mode B when the drive is in mode A, so I have to wait until mode A is turned off. Q: Check for a specific value in a list against a vector of strings I have a vector of values and I want to check whether any of these values exist in the list. If they do exist I want to find the first one. How can I do this with a short code? Example:
