Liberia: Ebola spread slows but not stalled Thursday Sep 5, 2014 at 11:49 AM
Sep 5, 2014 at 11:49 AM Liberia has registered a slight decrease in cases of Ebola over the past week, according to the World Health Organization. The count stands at 6,076 cases and 3,631 deaths, down from 6,681 and 3,798 respectively, but still shows no signs of slowing. Health workers and other workers at the epicenter of the outbreak, the West African nation of Guinea, are bearing the brunt of the disease. The U.N. has created a special fund of $1.4 billion to fight the disease.
